

Role: ACA Student Accountant-Graduate

Department: Private Client Tax

Vacancy Location: Leatherhead

Contract Length: Three Years

To Start: Summer 2022

Your Opportunity and Role

The initial training period is for a fixed term of three years; but we believe that the purpose of our ACA programme and employment is to build our future managers and partners and the majority of our students will remain with Rawlinson & Hunter LLP to continue their career beyond qualification. This may involve:

- Continuing along the Tax career route
- Transferring to work in one of our other business areas which will usually involve studying for a secondary qualification
- Seconding or transferring to one of our international offices; in the past Tax students have seconded or transferred to Bermuda and Australia)

We provide fully funded study support to our ACA students, who study at the best tuition centres in London. Our ACA students are supported by the HAT group who provide additional induction and technical training to support the core ACA curriculum, in addition to the support from your colleagues in the Firm.

Our students' record of exam success is outstanding and we have produced several award winners over the years. However, we also recognise that sometimes things can go wrong and not everyone will pass every exam first time around. So long as we feel you have made an appropriate level of commitment to your studies and are performing your role to a good level of competence, one poor examination result will not mean the end of your career at Rawlinson & Hunter LLP.
